SOCIAL and PERSONAL

THE luncheon given yesterday afternoon at Woman's Club in honor of the doctors and daughters of the doctors attending the sessions of the Medical Society of Virginia was a delightful success.

Decorations were in pink and white, the table having a centerpiece of pink chrysanthemums and roses, and pink-capped candles in crystal candelabra. The pleasure of the occasion was greatly enhanced by the rendition of a beautiful musical program, in which Mrs. Clifton M. Miller and Mr. Norman Call, vocalist; Mrs. Frank Duke, violinist; and Dr. W. H. O. McGhee, accompanist, took part.

The luncheon was preceded by a trolley drive around the city from the Jefferson Hotel. The hostesses for the afternoon who were most cordial and gracious, were Mrs. Christopher Thompson, Mrs. Clifton M. Miller, Mrs. William F. Mercer, Mrs. Samuel D. Garfield, Mrs. Hugh M. Taylor and Mrs. Truman A. Parker.

Richmond Chapter Meets. The Richmond Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, met in Lee Camp Hall yesterday, at 11 A. M., the principal business of the meeting being the election of officers to the general convention in Atlanta, Ga., on November 14th, and the reading of the report from the recent State convention at Manassas.

This report was read by Mrs. B. A. Blenner and was heard with much interest. New members received into the chapter were Mrs. Andrew Jackson Monaghan, Miss Alma E. Beazley, Miss Sally L. Hart and Miss Mary Poppenheim Miller, daughter of Mrs. Hugh Miller, the chapter treasurer.

Resolutions passed by Lee Camp Soldiers' Home, on the death of Miss Helena Peebles, embodying a touching and beautiful tribute to her memory, were read and ordered to be spread on the minutes of the chapter. Resolutions of regret were also adopted from the chapter and a copy sent to Miss Peebles' mother. The corresponding secretary was instructed to send letters of sympathy to Mrs. Burnett Lewis, Mrs. Clifton G. Coleman and Mr. Eppa Hunton, Jr.

M., and by a reception from 1:30 to 10:30 at Christ Church in the evening.

Bishop Coadjutor Beverly D. Tucker delivered an address in the morning. Bishop Randolph received in the evening with Mrs. Randolph, Miss Randolph and Mr. Tucker. A pleasant feature of the occasion was the presentation by Mr. Richard B. Tunstall, vestryman of St. Paul's, on behalf of the laity of the diocese, of a silver fruit bowl to Bishop and Mrs. Randolph, bearing the following inscription:

"Rt. Reverend Alfred Macgill Randolph, D. D., LL. D., C. L., October twenty-first, to the bishop of the Diocese of Southern Virginia for twenty-five years of faithful care and oversight, the clergy and laity of the Diocese of Southern Virginia present this gift as a token of the place their beloved bishop has in the hearts of all his people."

Why Ivory Soap, or any other, should be a valuable insecticide is hard to explain, but it is a fact. It has the advantage of not making the bushes unsightly as Bordeaux mixture does. A prominent nurseryman and florist writes that he had used it for years for an astonishing variety of insect pests.—Garden Magazine for June '07.

Would you like a copy of our book, "Plant Pests—How to Overcome them?" It is free. Write to F. J. GAMBLE CO., Cincinnati, Ohio.
